D. 1908, submitted to such duly qualified electors of the City of Roswell as were owners of real or personal property subject to taxation within the municipality; and Whereas, The returns of said election having been duly made by the proper officers thereof to the City Clerk of the City of Roswell, and said Clerk on Monday, February 24th, A. D. 1908 (the third day after said election falling on Sunday) having called to his assistance the Mayor of the City of Roswell, opened said returns and made out an abstract thereof as required by law, as shown by certificate of said Clerk on file, by which it appears that a total of 667 votes were cast upon the question; that 640 votes were cast whereon was placed the words, "For the issuance of negotiable coupon bonds of the City of Roswell, New Mexico, to the aggregate amount of $120,000.00, for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of a system of water works in and for said City;" that 27 votes were cast whereon were placed the words "Against the issuance of negotiable coupon bonds of the City of Roswell, New Mexico, to the aggregate amount of $120,000.00, for the purpose of providing funds for the construction of a system of water works in and for said City." Put a Bull Behind the Bars

We call especial attention to the hinge joint at each intersection of stay with main bars. This is the essential of every good wire fence. Unless the stay has a hinge joint the fence cannot receive pressure from contact and right itself. All rigid stay fences have been unsatisfactory and disappointing, as they crush down and when once down, remain so.

AMERICAN FENCE

Is made with a hinge joint, by which the maximum of elasticity is secured and the fence if properly stretched, remains in place indefinitely. With the hinge joint, no amount of strain on the bars can effect the connection of stay and bar, while the opposite is true of all rigid stay fences.
